The Louisville Journal undertakes to iticise what we said of the Hampton roads onference. Mr. Lincoln did not wish to see If the rebels were ready to sacrifice life, liberty and property to the vengeance or mercy of the corqueror. Well, really, will the Journal resute the statement by the record? The rebcis are to abandon the rebellion, and of course ubmit to all the laws of the United States to begin with. One of these laws, and the main one, is the corflic tion bill, by which every ebel is to be imprisoned or barged and all his property confiscated. A liberal use of the pardoning power is promised; but who are to oc exempt from the overation of the law! Are be very men to be treated with to be exempt? What does such a promise amount to with orbing specific in it? We are not discussing what rebels deserve. This was a conference o see if peace could be made, and with men under the pensities of the law. The terms are, surrender and submit to the laws with the aldes pre-cribed. They knew all that heore. They went back to Richmand as wise as they left it. They could not say to those who wished a restoration of the Union, there is nothing in he way; abandon the rebelilon and you will lose nothing; the past will be forgoiten. No amneaty is promised. There are the laws and their penalties. Of course the law will not be executed on everybody; but how far the liberality will ex'end we are ot informed. Now, we submit if the whole cord does not give the ultras at Richmond

The Louisville Journal need not undertake to ask: itself out excessively loyal by prefendg that the Provident offered any favorable erms at ati. Some did not desire any such onference, and they are only satisfied, because nothing but an unconditional surrender was allowed, with the severest penalties of the aw to be executed at discretion. It will not please its new ailies by making out that the cheis could return to the Union and lose olbing. They are gratified that Abraham old them they had nothing to expect, but the elemency that all criminals might hope They rather growt at the indifficte should like to know, is the use of going all the way to Hampton roads to tell men what they know before?

The telegraph had reported that the rebals had insisted on recognition, and we so stated. The celtor of the Journal has since seen the President's mersage and Mr. Seward's account of the interview, or ought to have seen them. Notwithstanding that he repeats the error of the telegraph: that the rebals insisted trom first to last on independence, and, in their, this makes the whole peint of his article. The record shows that this statement of the relegraph, still repeated by the Journal, is not true at all. These commissioners did not insist on independence. They did not commit themselves on that point. They asked an armistice. On this the Journal lets off thus. way to Hampton roads to tell men what they mistic. On this the Journal lets off thus: Does the Democrat believe that the proo-sed time."—in other words, an arministic-pro-was cesired by the rabel commissioners with a view to the Union's restoration? Certainly ont. It was desired, however, as a resting spell from the crushing movements of Grant, Sherman, Thomas and Terry. It was an effort to secure by diplomacy what the enlecible of the rebellion could not obtain. Lircoln and Seward appreciated this feet.

"Appreciated this fact." We don't know how an opinion can be turned into a fact until the experiment is tried. What we believe is unimportant. Grant believed it. He talked to Stephena and Hunter, and he believed they desired peace on the basis of the Union. For the proof of which see his dispatch to the Secretary of War. Grant's "fact." is at least as good as the Journal's "fact."

We are told at isst that the Democrat is justificing the rebelieve for the research and in the secretary of the research and the proof of which see his dispatch to the Secretary of War. Grant's "fact."

We are told at isst that the Democrat is justificing the rebelieve for every the Lurral of the proof of the pro iffing the rebellor; for, ears the Journal, fare not the rebels compiled to fight when the large fees which he received from the large fees which allowed from the Commission of Then the Journal his juilified the rebellion about a thousand and one times in the last tweive menths. A man is expected to fight for life, liborty and property; but that does not justify the act by which he forfeited them. When we undertake to make peace the first step is to remove the conditions in which we foresse the enemy must fight or will fight. But it this justifies the rebellion, the Congress that presed this bill of pains and penalties, and the party that insist on its execution, justify the rebellion, not us. We don't want to give the rebeis any such reason to fight. It is not our fault that they have such a reasor. We are amused at the Journal for its exhortation to follow the example of Fernando Wood, and we admire the modesty of the writer. Why did he not exhort us to follow the example of the Louisville Journa? It is simost as good as that of Fernando Wood. We can't, indeed, afford to follow such lights, for we could not tell to-day whither we should be going to morrow. Our object is the Union of these States; for in it is the hope of tree government. We don't believe it attainsble until mountains of sin are torgiven and forgotten. We had some faint hope of this conference, and we still hope there is some-hopeless, at least for a long time to come. The Provost Marshal of Cleveland has It is reported that a lot of guerrilles een streeted on two charges, viz: Procuring | were at Alexander's farm, in Scott county, on substitutes for drafted men; receiving com- Saturday. TI will be recollected that two corspondents of the New York Tribune falely made their escape from Saliabury prison, N. C. They were taken at Vickeburg, cent o Richmond, put first in Libby, then in Castle Thunder, and at last transferred to Sallsbury. Browne describes this last place as one of suffering and horror. Thus:

A FEARFUL CHANCE. After pine worths rire or ten thousand en-listed man were sent to Salishury from Elch-mond and other points; and then began a relen of pain and herror such as I had not believed could exist in the republic nuder any circum-

DECEASED REBEL PRISONERS. List of Rebel Prisoners who have Died at Camp Douglas Since May 2, 1864.

[From the Chicago Evening Jonras].

Lists of Union prisorers who have died in rebal prison-comps have occasionally been published in certain Southern papers and eagerly copied into Northern papers for the information of all interested. As an set of reciprocity, we publish herewith a flat of rebal prisoners who have died at Camp Douglas, Chicago, since May 2, 1854, when Gen. Sweet, the present commandant of the post, entered noun his dulies. A large proportion of the decessed were from Kentucky and Temessee, States where finion newspapers follow chosely upon the beels of Federal bayonets. Their relatives are scattered all ever the North, easely upon the beels of Federal bayonets. Their relatives are scattered all ever the North, easelily in Southern Hilbort, Indians and Chile. For the hereaft of them, and all concerned, we publish the flats.

There are not far from 12 500 prisoners now confined at Camp Douglas, though the recent order for exchange, together with the frequent coases where hie onth of all-gluce is administered, is indically decreasing that number. Among these held as prisoners there are representatives of every robel Risks and every arm of the rebliervice. ORIO AND KENTUCKY PETROLEUM AND MIDING COMPANY .- By reference to another column it will be seen that a new petroleum company, under the title of the "Ohio and Kenincky Petroleum and Mining Company," acorporated under the laws of the States of Ohlo and Keutucky, will commence business in this city ou Tuesday uext, February 21, at the office of the hankers of the company, Measrs. John Smidt & Co, corner Main and Fifth etreets. The company's property conaists of valuable oil and mineral lands located in the great oil belts of Ohlo, Washington pltal of the company is one million doltars, divided into two hundred thousand shares at five dollars per share, only a limited smount of which will be sold, and are offered at two dollars and fifty ceuts to subscribers. Subcription books will be open on Tucaday next. The high character of the gentleman composing the officers of the company, including ome of our first business men and bankers. together with the fact of the great value of the properties secured, augurs the most favorable prospects to all who are seeking invest ments in petroleum—the mighty monarch of the hour. Subscribers, especially, will erjoy unusual advantages, as they can obtain their stock at half price. The books will remain pen only a short time. SEE TO IT .- There is a government cuttle yard near the turnplke where the Leniagton railroad crosses. Close to the railroad, some distence from the pike, is a place prepared for room of the courthouse, on Saturday next, at the cattle to get water. We noticed a day or two sgo a large, fine beef cattle mired in the mnd, and understand it had been endeavoring to extricate itself for two or three days, but to extricate itself for two or three days, but had tailed, and was ouly sinking deeper in the soft mud. No doubt the poor brute has died. We hope those who have charge of the corall will inquire into the matter before a number of the poor beeves may lost their lives in that muddy, bottomless heie.

A GLAND BANQUET.—The Great Western Billiard Rooms, at the United States Hotel, were regularly opened last night and for hours the eight tables there were occupied. At 10 o'clock those present were invited to a rich barquet, set in the dling room, where, for hours, everything went merry as a marriage bell. The tables were spread with the richest delicates in abundance, and when the wine was brought out the coras could be seen and heard in all directions. We wish the Great Western Billiard Rooms and its proprietors,

THE POLICE COURT.

In the Democrat of yesterday we made brie mention of the arrest of David Shares, Hattie Jackson and Kate Pipley, charged with the murder of the lufaut child ot the latter. The Coroner's ir quest was concluded yesterday, when it was decided to dismiss the case as to Hattie Jackson and make a witness of her for ecunty, end on Oil Creek, Penneylvania. The the prosecution. The proof before the Coroner's jury did not implicate Shares, and be was discharged without being presented to the court. The remaining party, Kate Finley, had a preliminary examination before Judge Johnstou yesterday morning, when the following testimouy was elicited:

J. C. Gill called—Yesterdsy morning information was received at the cierk's office of the Police Court that there was the body of an Infant in a privy vault at the corner of Six's and Chestaut streets. Got the proper person and recovered the body of the lufaut from the and Chesiant streets. Got the preper person and recovered the body of the lufaut from the wull. An inquest was commenced yesterday and finished this morning. The party presented with others was arrested on a warrant, Hattie Jackson called—I lived at Kate Fluley's, corner of Sixth and Chestaul. Have been acquesiated with the accused since 11th of November. A short time sfier I went there the accused had the appearance of being preguant. She is a married woman, but has not lived with her bushaud for three years, as abe informed me. On the Joh day of samary the accused gast birth to a child. On that morning she complained of being sick. I wanted to go for a dector, but the secused refused to let me go. I went to send the negro girl after some person, and when I returned the accused said all was over. The child when I was coming to the room I heard the child cry. Accused asid "the child was fead." Whiness replied "do dead children cry?" The bucket in which the child was found was full of water. There was no one in the room ex-heard in all directions. We wish the Great Western Billiard Rooms and its proprietors, Mesers. Fletcher & Bowen, a long and prosperous career.

String and Cheston with Mrs. Green. Flavor works. About the 5th of January accused was sick; heard of the sffair, and went to house of accused; know nothing of the killing of the child; I drew the breast of the accused.

After this a child who lives at my house dew her breast.

Jno. A Octerlong called—Is a physician. Made a post mortem examination on the body of the lutant said to have been found in the want. Is of the opinion that the child was born alive, the lungs having the appearance, both in size and color, that the child had breaihed. The cheat was also very full and had the appearance that the child was born alive. There was no water in the lungs as if the child had been drowned. Am satisfied that the child once lived. The ambilical cord was united and the child may have bled to death.

At this point the counsel for the prosecu counsel for the defense, Mesars, J. H. Price and L A. Wood, announced that they had no argued, was submitted to the court. The court, after briefly summing up the testimony, murder.

At 214 o'clock the court again resembled, when the case of the Commonwealth against Caroline Miller, Clara Singer and Wm. Brockmau, charged with the murder of Philip Miller by administering poison was called. When the risoners were sent for to be brought ont Caroine Miller fainted away and was unable to be brought into court and the case had to be continued. This case will be brought before brought into court and the case had to be continued. This case will be brought before the court this morning. LOUISVILLE THEATER .- To-night is the last nt one of the engagement of the Florences in opr city, on which occasion they will appear in the afecting drama of Ireland as it Was.

WOOD's THEATER. - Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather Mr. Adams was greeted with another large and fashionable audlence is at night, when he appeared as Julian St. Pierre in the beautiful play of "The Wife, or a Tale of Mantoa." which we sill at the lowest publisher The piece was well produced, each member of the Mr. Adams will appear as Hamlet, in Shakspeare's sublima tragedy of that name. Mr. Adams is acknowledged by all critics to be one of the best Hamlets on the stage, and the house will no doubt be crowded on this occasion.

VARIETIES .- We stepped into the Varieties to spend a few pleasant moments iast night, but the ntertainment was so interesting we were compelled to remain until the performances were over.

Those who have never visited the Varieties no donbt have an opinion that it is not a first class place of amusement. Well, that is only an opinion and not a reality. Let ibem pay it a visit-"seeing is believing"—and they will alter their plnion. The performances to night will be splendid, and we doubt not the house will be crowded.

LA RUE-MASONIC TEMPLE.-La Rue's war show attracted another large andlence last night in the Masonic Tempie. Hie Stratopatecticon is certainly a great and pleasing inventiou. During the avening he entertained the andience with some of his lmpersonations of comic personages, attended with laughable lectures on different topics. Go and see it to night—there is can there.

INQUEST No. 403-Held at the Police Court oom, on the 14th and 15th of February, 1865, ou the body of the lufaut daughter of Kate Finley. Verdict-Came to its death ou or about the 5th of January, 1865, from vieleuce received at the hands of its mother.

J. C. GILL, Coroner, INQUEST No. 404-Held February 15:h, al the residence of Pat Dugau, ou Water, between Fifth and Sixth streets, on the body of John Hess. Verdict-Came to his death at or about 5 o'clock P. M., February 14th, at the above named place from some cause uuknown J. C. GILL, Coroner.

General Palmer has not yet been ap pointed to the command in this Siate. We have ben unable to learn the name of the "coming A special dispatch to the Cinciunsti Gazette from Frankfort says: There is no dis atiafaction with General Burbridge, either among the radicals in Kentucky or the authorities at Washington, but It is supposed at Washington that by the removal of Burbridge an obstacle to the hearty co-operation of the supposed friends of the Constitutional amend nent will be removed.

A free negro by the same of Henry Hamilton, who had been appropriating the goods of other parties to his own use, was esterday placed lu juil by officer Joel Lambourne. He will be before the . Police Court this morning.

We are indebted to the clever messen gers of the Adams Express Company for daily attentions to this office.

The Adams Express Company are doirg very heavy business at present. A deserter arrived from Nashville yes terday. "No name."

Buena Vista Oil and Mining Company. We beg leave to call the attention of the public to the tollowing letter of Professor J. awrence Smith to Messrs. Menefee & Atwood. We understand that there will he s few more shares of the stock sold in this city. Parties desiring to invest a small smount with the prospect of very large returns will do well to read the letter of Professor Smith, who is so well and favorably known to the scientific world: LOUISVILLE, KY., February 11, 1865.

Mesars. Menefee & Atwood: Sins: I have visited your tract of laud in Harrison county, Ind., seventeen miles below this city, and a short distance from the river. The weather being severe, and the ground frazen, the excloration I made of it was not as thorough as it would have been under other circumstances. My examination was principally confined to a long rayine in which there are now two engines at work; two wells are being surk, one having reached the depth of one hundred and fifty teet. The compact rock around the hills limestone that is slightly bituminous. On the top of one of the hills toat was examined there was much decomposed sand rock, but for reasons already stated these hills were not thoroughly explored. The most important point, however, in connection with this region, is the countrance of a shaly limestone, in seams, in the more compact rock. This contains patroleum, and at various points that were examined it occade out in drops. There were also small masses of blumen resulting from the evaporation of the petroleum that had passed out of the shale.

I broke off much of the shaly limestone at different points, and seund the creekes they are the process of the oil.

Those engaged in horing the wells have in-SIRS: I have visited your tract of land in

into the creek, the water became covered with layers of the oil.

These engaged in horing the wells have informed me that petroleum was siruck at sevenicen feet, forty feet, eighty feet and one hundred teet below the surface in email quantities; at these points the petroleum bearing rock already alluded to must hav; been traversed.

rock alresdy alluded to many the versed.

The above facts, with all I have been able to gather in relation to the reighboring region of Indians and Kentucky, show that the petroleum indications are, to say the least of it, quite as favorable on your tract of sand as eisewhere.

Yours respectfully, feld 65

FRANKFORT, Feb. 15. Lu.tor Democrat: Au spimsted struggle i ow in progress here over the Agricultura and Mechanical College bill which has passed the House and was in a fair way to be carried through the Senate before its objectionabl estures had attracted notice.

A combination had been formed to build up a huge institution at Lexington by surrendering the Transylvania University with its enlowment to the curators of the Harrodsburg 'Kentucky University," belonging to the Reormed or Christian denomination, and theu riving to the joint concern the whole endowment of Congress for an industrial col-

In return for the two hundred and tifty o hree hundred thousand dollars thus given by the State the privilege was to be silowed the State of appointing visitors, or an advisory board, with power to advise and to threaten the withdrawal of the State endorsement if their advise was not taken. This lugeniously discordant scheme is still further embarrassed by the sectarian jealousy which it will lucvitibly excite. It has no possibility of success. for a mechanical and agricultural or industrial school never did succeed in such a university combination and never will. The working and the ldle, the paying and the non-paying, cannot be combined in one justitution.

Moreover, the prople of Mercer connly ar emoratrating against the removal of their oilege without their consent, and without the consent of its authorities, and are cisiming the return of their subscriptions if this violation of good faith should occur. The friends of this scheme, however, have

There are four parks in Colorado Terri There are four parks in Colorado Territory. They are, as will be seen by reference to the map, designated the North, Middle, South and San Luis parks. The San Luis park is the most southern. They are of equal size, constituting together a system. They are in close invitagesition lontem. They are in close juxtaposition, lon-gitndinally annexed. The resemblance, each with the other, is perfect, yet in the details is observable a variety perfectly in-finite. In physical features the ban Luis ourk is very remarkable. The smooth area s nine thousand four hundred square niles. The form is very nearly a perfect ellipse, its southerly curve being within the Territory of New Mexico. A continuous envelop of mountains incloses it, whose crest everywhere ascends to the line of perpetual snow. It is the bowl of a primeral see, which has been drained. In configura-tion this park is the counterpart of the basins of Geneva and Custans, enveloped within the Helvetian Alps. The altitude of the San Luis plain above the sea is six The Berali's Washington special sys that seemen grows has farthed Branchville buth shove and below, and Harder's torces have evacuated that place. By these overations the railroad community of the course with the railroad community of the course between virging and the Bouth is continued to the Bouth is continued to the same of the sand way for the rebels and the difficulty of sumplying the people and the army, even with half rations, is delly becoming almost insuran unlable, and the evacuation of Richmond is duly becoming almost insuran unlable, and the evacuation of Richmond is duly becoming the proposed in the south. The plain is continuous as a water surface, having isolated volcanic butes, resembling having isolated volcanic bates, resembling islands, and an indented rim. The system of the four parks occupies a parallelogram cul through the center of Colorado, from north to south, two hundred miles wide and four hundred long. They reach from latitude thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes to forty-one degrees and thirty minutes. The one hundred and sixth degree, meridian, exactly bisects them all. The mother Cordiliers, sweeping in sucessive and alternate curves, east and west, ivides them one from the other. Each park gives birth to an immense river, departing Iternately to the Atlantic and Pacific seas. iere are grouped mountains, parks and rivers of supendous dimensions and angust sublimity. Spurs of the primary Cordillera curve around to embrace those fronts of the parks from which the great rivers debouch by canons. These parks have the same level as the great "Platean of America." They form a part of its surface and assimi-late to all its peculiar characteristics. There are parts of it sunk within the bulk of the primeval Cordillera.

Remarking the identity in physical features of the parks, thus closely grouped, but the infinite variety flowing from the juxt-position of altitudes, depressions, permanent snows, running rivers, and the eccentric courses of the mountains and rivers, the details of the Sau Luis park offer them-Captain Kennedy, charged will belog one of the rebels who assemble to burn 12. cutt, is now but right belone the assemble that a drift will abraded from the mountains and deposited by the currents of the water court which convolute East. and of the atmosphere The eastern half partakes of the qualities of the Cordillera, he western half of the qualities of the Sierra Mimbres. The mother Cordillera forms the eastern wall; the Sierra Mimbrea the western wall of the San Luis park.
The mother Cordillera has a base and flanks of granite slopes inclining inwards as a yramid surmounted by supendous masses jurassic limestone, carried up, but not desiroved, by the upheaving volcanic forces. Neither igneous, plutonic rocks nor erupted lava is anywhere found or seen. The Siera Mimbros a mountain chain of the sec omiary order, has in a less proportion the primeval and sedimentary rocks, but presents the throats of ancient volcanoes, streams of lava once fluid, and the immense edrigals of igneous and plutonic rocks. The calcareous clement, therefore, predominates in the alluvial soil, mixed with silicious and phuonio debris. These elements, intermixed by the action of water and the winds, present to arable and pastoral life a smooth surface for culture and perfect intrinsic fertility. liere is recognized an atmosphere and climate purely continental. Situated most remote from all the seas, of mountain altitude and encased all round by snowy Sier-ras, the atmosphere is intensely tonic, salubrious and brilliant. Summer and win-ter divide the year, scarcely interrupted by vernal or autumnal seasons. The meridian sun retains its vitalizing heat throughout the year, while at midnight prevails a corresponding tonic coolness. The formation of light clonds along the crest of the Sierras is incessant. These are wafted away by the steady atmospheric currents coming from the west. They rarely interrupt the sunshine, but, refract-ing his rays, imbue the canopy with a shining silver light, at once intense and brilliant. The flanks of the great mountains, bathed by the embrace of these irrigating clouds, are clad with deuse forests of pine, fir, spruce and aspen, which pro-tect the sources of springs and the running rivulets. With the forests alternate moun rivulets. With the forests attended that and nutritions grasses. The accending clouds, rarely condeused, furnish little irrigation at the depressed elevation of the plains, which are destitute of timber, but clothed in grass. These grasses, growing rapidly during the annual melting of the snows, oure into hay as the aridity of the atmosphere returns. They form perennial pastures and supply the winter food of the aboriginal cattle, everywhere indigenous and abundant. The everywhere indigenous and soundard. In-critical conclusion to which a rigid study of nature brings the scrutinizing mind, is the reverse of first impressions. The mul-tudinous variety of nature adjusts itself with a delicate harmony which brings into concord all the industrial energies, arable agriculture, passoral agriculture and all agriculture, pasioral agriculture and all the kindred pursuits of labor which rest upon this foundation and accompany its prosperous vigor. These are burnished, as it were, by the perpetual brillianoy and ea-lubrity of the atmosphere and landscape, whose unfailing beauty and tonic taste invite the physical and mental energies to perpetual activity.

In pastoral agriculture there is eeen the spontaneous production by nature of meat, dairy food, hidee, wool and kindred elements, sustained as fish in the sea. It is here we find an immense celf-sustaining element of food for the human family.

For arable agriculture the area is equally ample in proportion, and of equally pro-pitious excellence. The descending monn-tain streams furnish irrigation to the piais, whose porous soils receive them to satura-tion. Ail the cereals and fruits known to the European people acclimate themselves with the same facility as the people themselves, and the domestic animals that accompany them. They receive a similar improvement from the tonic purity of the atmosphere and perennial sunshine. Over the swarm of animal life, of the aboriginal kind, and its variety, is astonishing. All domestic animals known to our people, when substituted for them, equal them in adaptability and excelience.

For manufacturing in all the departments of food, clothing and metals, all inducements of facility and economy present themselves. Fuel of wood and coal are accessible. Markets are found in the adjacent active mining regions of Colorado, New Mexico and Arisona.

The San Luis park extends from thirty-six degrees thirty minutes to thirty-eight degrees torty minutes, and is bisected by the one hundred and sixth degree meri-dian, very nearly the center of the Terri-tory. It is an ellipse in form, two hundred the condition of the second to a second to into it from all portions and departments of the external continent. Its whole area is scanned by the eye at one sight from the overhanging mountains. No feature of nature which euters into the composition of scenery, rising to the highest standard of sublimity and beauty, is wanting. A verhal temperature, dissolving tiuts of light and shade, a translucent canopy, intensely blne, a plottrecture landscape and fantastic variety of form, bland the said form. blne, a ploturesque laudscape and fantastic variety of form, blend themselves with the milk-white summits of the mountains to exhibit a pancrama forever fresh, graceful and fascinating, cutrivaling in celestial loveliness the oriental and poetio beauties of the sylvan Valley of Cashmere.

INTERESTING TO IRISHMEN .-- According to

chequer, at the last session of Parliament, the wealth of Ireland, in the space of four years, has been reduced by £27,000,000that is, more than double her rental-and still showing a tendency to diminish. Four seasons of late and deficient harvests have told heavily on a country which has little store of accumulated capital, and whose industry is nearly all agricultural. For the first time since the great famine, the area of cultivation has diminished, produc- Amount of Capital, all paid, is $200,000 tion has been much reduced, and the value of its annual returns has fallen off in a like proportion. Over the whole of Ireland 5,970,139 acres were under crop in 1860; in 1863 there were only 5,666,179. The cereal produce of the first of these years was estimated at 10,953,613 quarters, of the last 8,705,338; nor does the difference measure the loss, as prices have fallen during the interval. So, too, the entire live stock of Ireland was valued in 1860 at £33,885,097; two years afterwards it had sunk to £31, 204,325. These losses have been estimated at an average of £9,000,000 for three years, of course, have reached ail classes. Rents are paid with difficulty, or have fallen; land commands a lower price in the market; the commerce of the country has contracted; large sums, calculated at several millions, have been withdrawn from va rious deposits, in order to meet all kinds of engagements; there has been a great in crease of insolvencles, and emigration has been suddenly stimulated. Nor have the poorer classes escaped, although they have throughout most of the laboring classes. Powner,-Most persons, probably, suppose that in consequence of the prevailing war the manufacture and consumption of powder in this country must have been greatly increased. But we are assured on good anthority that the reverse is the case. The consumption of powder in time of peace is far greater than during the war; its exportation is prohibited; consequently the immense foreign trade, which manufacturers have been for years accustomed t suffered less in proportion. The number of persons relieved in 1860 was 179,514, and 5,700,000; the criminal convictions of the

though assuredly not to a great extent supply, is wholly at an end. It is a onrious circumstauce connected with the powder business that, while the Government is in great need of the article, at the lowest prices, it employs the most direct agencies to raise the prices and impede its own supplies. Thus the Government places very large duties, payable in gold, on the raw materials, and theu lays heavy revenue taxes on the manufactured article. As the Government is a principle consumer, it thus puts itself to the delay and expense of fixing and collecting taxes from itself. One of the results of thie foolish plan is to elevate the prices of the raw materials to such a degree that the manufacturers are required to take unusual risks and employ about three times as much capital in the supply of their orders as was formerly needed, and without substantial increase of profits. Under these circumstances, if the wants of the Government cannot be readily supplied, it has no one to blame but itself. WHAT A TOAD DID FOR A SOLDIER .- A friend connected with the United States Sauitary Commission relates for the American Agriculturist the following incident A number of wounded from the battle of Petersburg were lying in a hospital tent, among whom was a negro whose leg had been taken off. He was on a mattress on the ground, and, the weather being hot, the dressed stamp of his leg was exposed, and a ewarm of files were settling upon it. a ewarm of flies were settling upon it.

Presently a large toad hopped into the tent, and, taking his station near the edge of the bed, began gobbling up the the blne bottles in double-quick. The moment one alighted within six inches of the epot he would square himself for the attack, his eye twinkling with excitement, and then, with a flash of hie tongue and a smack of hie mouth, the unlucky insect would disanmouth, the unlucky insect would disappear. The boy was asleep when this com-menced, but soon awoke, and was at first menced, but soon awake, and was at hist frightened at the 'ugly toad' so near him; but our friend bade him be quiet, and pointed out the service the creature was rendering him, when the negro and all present voted him a member of the Com-mission, with many thanks, and his kin-dred were at once in high favor.

of the House resolution. The thirty-five bonnty-jumpers who escaped from the camp at Augusta have all been recaptured.
